

Congratulations Bishop Alison Taylor AM!

The parish extends its warmest congratulations to Bishop Alison Taylor, one of our associate clergy, who was made a Member of the Order of Australia in the King's Birthday Honours. The citation reads: "For significant service to the Anglican Church and conservation". Her service to the Anglican Church has been truly significant across a number of areas, serving the Church variously as Vicar, Archdeacon and Bishop, and Chair of Anglican Overseas Aid, among many other areas. Her commitment to conservation was apparent when, before ordination, she was a town planner and for a time, deputy director (conservation) of the Victorian National Trust.
